PROGRAM

Speaker: Jeanne MacVicar

Topic: The Orphan Train Movement

Jeanne MacVicar has a lifelong interest in history which led to extensive research on the Orphan Train Movement. The Orphan Train Movement was a supervised welfare program that transported orphaned and homeless children from crowded Eastern cities of the United States to foster homes located largely in rural areas of the Midwest. The orphan trains operated between 1854 and 1929, relocating about 200,000 orphaned, abandoned, or homeless children. Jeanne's interest is on a personal level as her great-aunt Adeline Trowbridge arrived in Clyde, Kansas on the Orphan Train in 1911. Adeline was taken in by Jeanne's great-grandparents, George and Sarah Trowbridge at the age of 3. Adeline lived in Clyde her whole life and is buried in the Clyde cemetery.

Jeanne calls Clyde, KS, her hometown and attended schools through high school in Kansas. She even attended a one-room schoolhouse for several years. Jeanne graduated from Colorado Women's College with a degree in Liberal Arts and spent her senior year in Spain at the International Institute for Girls in Madrid. She received her graduate degree in Education and History from the University of Kansas. Jeanne moved to California in 1970 to teach Spanish on the middle school level in Livermore where she met her husband, Duncan MacVicar. She and Duncan moved to Los Altos in 1980 where they still live. Jeanne transitioned from teacher to real estate agent 37 years ago and is an active realtor with Sereno Group Real Estate in Los Altos.

The Big Sir Says . . .

The month of August was a quiet one, a good meeting with about 195 people attending. We inducted several more members and had a very good speaker.

Our August speaker, Dr. Mehrdad Ayati's topic addressed our society's tendency to rely on drugs to cure our ills when, in fact, the multitude of drugs and their interactions that our aging members take can actually create more significant problems of their own. An important part of his message was to have your doctor check the list of drugs you might be taking on a regular basis and to assess the possible interactions that can come from the mix. Dr. Ayati also suggested to check out this website: www.Drugs.com. It is a website where one can type in the names of your drugs and which will identify any adverse interactions that might exist between them. I thought it was a very good idea and so I checked my regular drugs for interactions. I was lucky, no adverse interactions were shown. But it also demonstrated to me that those same drugs do have bad interactions with about 200 other drugs that I don't take. For me, that was a wake-up call. I encourage all of you to do this simple test to see if you might be having any drug interactions that may have bothered you. According to Dr. Ayati, this syndrome is very prevalent in an aging society. Unfortunately, that includes every one of us!

The September speaker is Jeanne MacVicar, the wife of our very own Little Sir, Duncan. She will speak about the Orphan Train. I have heard Jeanne speak previously, I can assure you that you will enjoy this presentation. The story is riveting and heart rendering.

I have been told that the Elks Lodge will begin installing solar panels in the parking areas in the near future. After a conversation with the Elks' management, we have been assured that parking will not be affected either during or after the installation.

We are planning our Holiday Luncheon. The luncheon date this year will be December 14th (to be confirmed) and will be held at the Elks Lodge. Please mark your calendars. Remember, families are invited too!

At the August luncheon we elected a new slate of Officers and Directors for 2017 as follows:

Big Sir - Duncan MacVicar
Sr. Little Sir – Stan Scardino
Jr. Little Sir – Peter Thurston
Secretary – Darryl Walker
Asst. Secretary – Nev Griffin
Treasurer – Larry Wray
Asst. Treasurer – Tim O'Meara

Directors:
Wayne Dexter
Ben Gikis
Jim Steinmetz
Gary Waldeck
Dan Zemanek

I hope to see all of you on September 21st.

MYSTERY MEMBER

Mystery Member in uniform following discharge in February 1946

Do you remember the television game show "What's My Line?" In 1950, the panelists (Arlene Francis and later Steve Allen, to name a few) would guess a contestants occupation based on some personal history. Well, let's play!

Contestant: "I was born on a farm in Floodwood, MN but spent most of my formative years in the city of Duluth. I grew up during the Great Depression, in poverty, in a fatherless home with my mother and three siblings. I started work when I was about seven, selling magazines, doing yard work and caddying for golfers. I had a paper route, walking several miles each morning, even in the frigid winters. While in high school, I worked part time in a variety of jobs up to a sales clerk at Sears. Who am I?"

Panelist: "Did you serve in the Armed Forces?"

Contestant: "Yes, I served in the Merchant Marines, the U.S. Army and Air Force."

Panelist: "Tell me something unique about yourself?"

Contestant: "I have something in common with the former Dictator Saddam Hussein. We both appear on the same page of "Who's Who in the World" (Marquis 6th edition, 1982-83)."

Panelist: From your humble beginnings did you receive much education?

Contestant: "I graduated from Harvard College and received my AB and MBA from Harvard Business School.

Who am I?"

Not sure? As Paul Harvey was often quoted to say "...and now, the rest of the story."

"When I was seventeen, I served as a deckhand on the Ore boats (actually large ships) traversing the Great Lakes carrying iron ore from the upper Lake Superior ports to the steel mills on Lake Erie. In the fall of 1943, when I was eighteen, I joined the U.S. Army and was assigned to the 34th Medical Depot, initially located in New Guinea and later on the island of Leyte in the Philippines. En route to Leyte we experienced several Kamikaze attacks, losing three ships from a convoy of twenty- five. (Editor's note: Leyte is part of the Philippines Islands. Gen. Douglas MacArthur waded ashore on Leyte on 20 October, 1944, stating "I have returned.") At Leyte, our part of the island was secured but General MacArthur's forces were still fighting about thirty miles from us. (Yes, some of our guys witnessed the General sitting in a rocking chair on the porch of a native hut smoking a corn cob pipe.)

"The 34th was a huge depot geared to serve the entire Pacific with medical supplies, everything from aspirin to iron lungs with enough equipment to constitute a complete hospital. We also had tons of blood plasma. We always knew when a new campaign was imminent as we were alerted to pre-position whole blood and plasma from our giant refrigerators. The medical depot was organized into four departments, each under the command of a Master Sergeant. I was assigned to the Receiving Department, which processed hundreds of truckloads daily. The depot had its own stockade of 250 Japanese Prisoner of War soldiers to serve as our labor pool. When the head of my department was relieved of duty for medical reasons, I was placed in charge and rapidly (four months) promoted four times from Private First Class to Technical Sergeant, alas, one rank below Master Sergeant.

One day, I foolishly left my pistol lying on my desk while I dealt with matters elsewhere. When I was away from my desk, I saw a prisoner rush to my desk and grab my pistol. With unexpected calmness, I accepted the fact that I was about to be killed and that I had no one but myself to blame for it. Instead, the POW quickly handed me the pistol, just as my Captain came around the corner. He knew that the standard protocol for the unit was for all soldiers to wear their side arms at all times. The POW saw the Captain coming. He had risked his life for my benefit. I was discharged from the Army in 1946 at the age of twenty. I attended college on the G.I. bill and was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve.

"I worked for GE in New York City, Honeywell in Minneapolis, Hexcel Corp. in Berkeley, Desa Industries in Baltimore, Courier Terminals in Phoenix, Data Pathing Inc. in Sunnyvale ( merged into NCR) and later co-founded my own consulting company. I served as an Accountant, Controller, Executive, Vice President of Finance and Co-Founder and CEO. While at Honeywell, I spent the last two years managing a department of twenty-six programmers running a Datamatic 1000 ($2M) computer.

"I met my wife Helen when we both were in college and working at the Boston Post Office during the 1949 Christmas rush. We went to a movie and out for cokes later. She had a great sense of humor, was very caring and was knowledgeable on every topic I brought up. We married while she was a freshman at Boston Teachers College. We had three children, two grandsons and one great granddaughter. Sadly, my wonderful wife died in 1988.

"I come from a long line of teachers. My mother taught eight grades in a one-room country schoolhouse. I've always felt teaching was an important part of an executive's job. It has been particularly rewarding to me when former employees called to say their careers flourished from my guidance.

"Over the years, I've been involved in a lot of volunteer work and social endeavors, mostly professionally related. I have served as the Branch 35 Treasurer and later as the State SIR Treasurer. I was President of the Mid-Peninsula Widows and Widowers organization and Vice President of Bloomington (MN) Civic Theater. I've also served on the board of the National Association of Accountants and Junior Achievement. And, I have been a long time member of the Stanford Singles and Mensa organization. At one point in my life I served as a regular panelist on a PBS TV discussion series and as the lead actor on a Philips Company "YouTube" commercial.

"I've played golf for many years, badly, though I did have four hole-in-ones. Now I bowl and play bridge, also badly. I used to play casino Blackjack very well. Occasionally, I write letters to the editor (San Jose Mercury News) on political issues and oddly, they publish almost every one. Back in the 1960's when personal computer programs were simple games, I was writing serious business programs such as income tax planning and Monte Carlo tax estimating. My proudest programming achievement was a sophisticated General Ledger package of programs, which I've continued to use for the last fifty years. I have travelled extensively across the U.S., Europe and Asia. In the process I have been fortunate to meet a large number of celebrities from boxing greats Max Baer, Joe Louis and Muhammad Ali, to Adlai Stevenson, Hubert Humphrey and Gov. Pat Brown in the political arena. I was kissed by Spot ("Our Gang" mascot), been in the same room with Winston Churchill, Harry S. Truman and John F. Kennedy and shook hands with Cary Grant, Shirley MacLaine, Susan Hayward and Clint Eastwood, (in fact, Clint and I dated the same lady.) I attended Louis Armstrong's 50th birthday party on July 4th, 1950 and heard him jam with Weldon "Jack" Teagarden, famous jazz trombonist and George Shearing, famous blind British jazz pianist.

"My advice for the grandkid generation;

- Take a course in accounting, it is the language of business; don't be left out.
- Take a computer programming course. Understanding any one of the many languages will give you a basic grasp of the "magic" that impacts every moment of our lives.
- On your first day on the job and everyday thereafter, think about how you can contribute to the company not yourself or your career. Good work always comes full circle.
- Always stay on the high slope of every new job's learning curve. And move on when you have plateaued.

"If you have not guessed by now, then the jig is up as we are out of article space. My name is Hutch Hutchinson and I have been a SIR member since 1995."

"... and now you know the rest of the story."

Epilogue: In the preparation and interview process, I found Hutch to be responsive, alert and conversant. His eyes sparkle and his hands get animated as he barks and jabbars his stories. When asked how he has been able to keep so active and alert over the years, Hutch's response was, "Choose your ancestors wisely, other than that I have no clue."

ED PAUSA 650-324-0322
clements.e.pausa@us.pwc.com
 Assistant: Walter Weber 408-371-8925, walterweber08@comcast.net

20 RULES FOR A GOOD OLD AGE..... from Ed Pausa

1. It's time to use the money you saved up. Use it and enjoy it.
2. Stop worrying about the financial situation of your children and grandchildren. You gave them education, food, shelter and support. The responsibility is now theirs to earn their way.
3. Keep a healthy life with moderate exercise (like walking every day), eat well and get your sleep. Keep in touch with your doctor even when you're feeling well.
4. Always buy the best, most beautiful items for your significant other. One day one of you will miss the other, and the money will not provide any comfort then.
5. Don't stress over the little things. You have good memories and bad ones, but the important thing is the present.
6. Regardless of age, always keep love alive. Love your partner, love life, love your family, love your neighbor, your surroundings, your country.
7. Be proud, both inside and out. When you are well-maintained on the outside, it seeps in, making you feel proud and strong on the inside.
8. Keep your own sense of style. You've developed your own sense of what looks good on you - keep it and be proud of it.
9. Read newspapers, watch the news. Try to use some of those social networks. Keeping in touch is important at any age.
10. Never use the phrase: "In my time...." Your time is now. As long as you're alive, you are part of this time.
11. Some people embrace their golden years, while others become bitter and surly. Spend your time with positive, cheerful people, it'll rub off on you and your days will be that much better.
12. Do not surrender to the temptation of living with your children or grandchildren (if you have a financial choice, that is). All of us need our privacy.
13. Don't abandon your hobbies. If you don't have any, make new ones. Find something you like and spend some real time having fun with it.
14. Even if you don't feel like it, try to accept invitations. Baptisms, graduations, birthdays, weddings, conferences. Try to go. Get out there.
15. Be a conversationalist. Talk less and listen more. Listen first and answer questions, but don't go off into long stories unless asked to.
16. Pain and discomfort go hand in hand with getting older. Try not to dwell on them but accept them as a part of the cycle of life we're all going through.
17. If you've been offended by others, forgive them. Don't hold resentment.
18. If you have a strong belief, savor it. Live your faith and set an example.
19. Laugh. Laugh A LOT. Laugh at everything. Remember, you are one of the lucky ones. Find the humor in your situation.
20. Take no notice of what others say about you and even less of what they might be thinking. Now is the time to be free, at peace and as happy as you can be!

Branch 35 Golfer Joe Cioni Wins Golden Gate Flight of NCGA 53rd Annual Senior Net Championship

Branch 35 golfer, Joe Cioni, captured his flight championship in the NCGA's 53rd Annual Senior Net Championship, played at Poppy Hills Golf Course in Pebble Beach on June 6-7. Three strokes behind the leader after the first round, Joe shot a three under par net 68 the second day to win the Golden Gate Flight by two shots. His two day net score of one under par was the only under-par net score in his flight.

Joe has been a member of SIR Branch 35 since 2012. He is a Branch 35 two-time Match Play Champion, a former Club Champion and a Golfer of the Year winner.

TOMATO TASTING RESULTS

Our second tomato challenge for 2016 was held at the August luncheon, drawing five contestants and providing 19 different taste sensations for our distinguished panel of judges. Top tasting tomatoes included Caspian Pink (Beefsteak); Ernie and Gracie's Kentucky Heirloom (Classic); and Black Cherry. We would like to thank Andy Danver, Jim Harvey, Bob Garten, Dave Ogle and Jerry Ososkie, who went to special efforts in providing the exceptional tomato varieties and to those who volunteered as judges.
